DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

There is yet a chance that the stretch of highway between Danielson and the Rhode Island line at Little Rest and the stretch between Brooklyn may be built this year.

Henry H. Davenport, state highway department inspector for Windham county, states that bids for building these stretches of highway will again be invited by the state highway department, now opening on May 15.

Mr. Davenport further states that there is no truth in the reports that bids for the work were received recently and rejected because of the excessive cost. Not a bid came to the state highway department for this particular work. Mr. Davenport says, and he has been assured by an engineer of the state highway department.

The story to the effect that bids had been received and rejected appeared originally in a Hartford paper.

The announcement that bids are again being sought will prove encouraging to the people of Danielson and surrounding towns, which territory is developing very rapidly and is in direct need, for business purposes—motor trucking and the like—of the stretches of highway that would give one continuous state highway line into Providence.

The highway east and west isn't wanted to take anyone's fancy or to boost local pride, but to permit of the uninterrupted development of all that part of Windham county which the route would traverse.

A tremendous amount of motor traffic, freighting, is now passing over out of the way routes to get into this territory. Building of the new highway would relieve that situation.

Damiano Braconi of Webster avenue, Long Island City, came back to Danielson Friday morning and appeared before Justice W. P. Woodward in the town court to answer to charges of violating the motor vehicle law. He was the driver of the truck that was held up here Wednesday evening by Inspector Ralph C. Young, for being equipped with only one headlight. Friday morning he paid $10 and costs for breaking the law. As he drove away, apparently going home, it was noticed that the truck still had but one headlight.

Postmaster Raymond Allen and other members of the post office force do not take at all kindly to the published suggestion that they go back to the old arrangement of keeping the post office open until 7:30 p. m. During the present week the office has been closing at 6:30 p. m., after being open 14 hours, from 5:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m. The boys are getting up at 5:30 a. m. these days and are really on duty, clearing up the day's work until nearly 7 p. m. They think that is about long enough, being confined in the office, of the much talked of eight hour day.

Postmaster and clerks would prefer the old schedule—6:30 a. m. to 7:30 p. m.—but Danielson is out of tune with the rest of the country in its insistence on keeping time, and this fact imposes hardships on the post office force that are sufficient without adding more.

Post office regulations state that the schedule of clerks and carriers must be based upon mail train schedules in order to maintain the most expeditious delivery and dispatch of mails. Postal laws also require to arrange schedules for all clerks and carriers on a basis of 8 hours' labor within 10 consecutive hours. Hence all men who report at 5:30 a. m. must be through at 3:30 p. m.

Regarding the public having to gobble their supper to get to the post office before 6:30 p. m. the postal men have to gobble their breakfasts to get on the job at 5:30 and 6 a. m. and the night men do not have opportunity to get their supper until 7 or after.

In regard to a man who returns at 7:30 p. m. to put up the mail for the boat train at 7:56 p. m., this mail closed at 6:30 p. m. and is carried to the station before 7 p. m. if possible. The idea that any man should carry mail for an hour or more to prepare this mail for the boat train is evidence of lack of knowledge of the mail business, as it regularly requires from 45 minutes to an hour or more to prepare this mail for the boat train. The local post office force is willing to do anything possible to accommodate the public, but experience has taught them that when the office closed at 7:30 p. m. the same people were late as they are now.

A few bus drivers and automobile mechanics, 25 to 30 years of age, are finding steady employment at good wages at the Danielson Garage—adv.

A spring institute for Sunday school workers, under the auspices of the Windham County Sunday School association, is to be held at the Congregational church in Dayville, Sunday afternoon, Rev. William Swainson, pastor of the Dayville church, will preside. The programme lists a number of speakers from among the ministers in Windham county parishes.

Members of the Circuit league of the Methodist church in towns in this section will be at Jewett City for a meeting this evening.

Every effort is being made by Miss Hiram Boomhower, visiting nurse, to interest people in the clinics that are being held here by Dr. Hugh B. Campbell of Norwich. These clinics are the interest of persons suffering with tuberculosis and more particularly in suspected cases. Mr. Campbell will be here again next Tuesday, at the town hall building, from 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. The service is free and in the interest of the public health.

PUTNAM

At least 144 persons who live in Putnam and vicinity have been reported to the state motor vehicle department as continuing to operate motor vehicles which are equipped with headlights that are illegal. It is expected that many of these motorists will receive final letters of warning and that prosecutions will follow for those who do not obey the law.

There was little change Friday in the strike situation at Mechanicsville, where the weavers remained out. More weavers returned to work Friday at the mill of the Mansfield Manufacturing company.

Mayor Marey discussed Friday the proposed plan to build a bridge over the pavement from near the First National bank building to the Bugbee and Wolf store, from Mansfield's corner to the Bugbee and Wolf store and from the bank building to Mansfield's to make a safety zone for pedestrians, who now often have to run for their lives to keep out of the way of the automobile traffic.

Malcolm M. Willey, who will be graduated from Clark college, Worcester, in June, is to enter Columbia university in the fall. Mr. Willey will specialize in social science. He is the son of Mrs. Helen Willey of this city.

This Saturday will be a busy one for Town Clerk David Flagg, as the day is the first of May, the last on which dog owners will be permitted to register their animals without paying a penalty of one dollar.

Members of the Putnam Country club are expected to appear in force on the golf links south of the city this afternoon to play in the first of the tournaments arranged for this season. The Country club enters this season with enthusiasm and there are plans that mean much entertainment for the members and their guests.

It was declared Friday that Henry Baker, a man of middle age, died Wednesday night at his boarding place on Powhattan street as the result of drinking carboic acid. The body was removed to a room of a local undertaker. The police say that Baker had been dependent for the past two weeks, following his boarding mistress' announcement that she no longer could board him. Baker has worked in Putnam and vicinity for years. For a long time he was employed at the Tillinghast stables in Central Village and while in this city has been employed by various persons. He has a brother and sisters and a daughter, have been located in Providence and were expected here Friday afternoon to claim the body.

Putnam will see a parade of members of the Loyal Order of Moose this evening, a feature arranged in connection with the carnival that the organization has been conducting.

Members of Elizabeth Porter Putnam Chapter, D. A. R., went to Eastford Friday afternoon to bring the birthday greetings and good cheer to Sarah Bosworth Bradley—a real daughter of the Revolution, who observed her 102nd anniversary. Mrs. Bradley believed to be the oldest person in eastern Connecticut.

Mrs. Bradley was born in Eastford April 20, 1818, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bosworth. Her father fought in the Revolutionary War, coming to this country from England. She was married to Mr. Bosworth in 1840. With this famous force Mr. Bosworth participated in the battles of Long Island, White Plains, Port Washington and Fort Mifflin.

From May to October of 1778 he served in Captain John Sumner's force and took part in the battle of Rhode Island. In May of 1780 Mr. Bosworth is recorded as a member of Captain Benjamin Sumner's company.

This year the D. A. R. chapter committee in charge of the arrangements for the pilgrimage to Eastford was made up of Miss Ellen Wheelock, Mrs. F. E. J. J. and Miss Harriet Brown. The chapter carried Mrs. Bradley a pretty decorated May basket and many little gifts. They were very pleasing to the aged and honored lady, who is in excellent health and spirits.

Mrs. Bradley is the last of a family of 11 children. She is a remarkable woman, and, in a remarkable way, retains her faculties.

Rev. Arthur Routhier, assistant at St. Mary's church, will be in Williamstown today (Saturday) to assist at the golden jubilee of Mother Superior Tharsilla of St. Joseph's convent, being one of the officers in the solemn high mass.

Living. Mother Tharsilla has been a Sister for 50 years, forty of which she has spent in the convent at Williamstown.

Mrs. George S. Bradley and children, who are a family of six, will be in Minneapolis. Mr. Bradley will go later to join his family. Returning they will visit in Cleveland with George Gascoigne and in Toledo with Mrs. Foster and daughter respectively.

Carrie Gascoigne of South Main street, government for a re-organization of the National guard.

There is a feeling here that there will be a spontaneous response to the call for enlistments in the new coast artillery company, for patriotism, notwithstanding all the rebuffs it has received since the ending of hostilities, still brightly burns in many hearts.

While ex-service men have not been interviewed in any number by Captain P. O. Armington, there is a feeling that a few of the men who may now be regarded as veterans of the war will want to get back into the guard service. This always has been the rule and is likely to apply at this time.

Miss Charlotte Embleton, who was one of the donors of the Farm Bureau county during the period of the war, and who, after resigning her position here, went to Williamstown, is now assistant county secretary at the Y. W. C. A. in "Hartford."

Although it has been announced by the trustees of the day Kimball hospital, that the required $25,000 has been raised, making an equal amount available from the state, for the building of an addition, of which there is great need, work will have to be deferred on account of the excessive cost of materials and of labor at present.

The trustees have announced that the new motor-driven ambulance, recently purchased is expected here within a few days. Within the city limits a charge of $5 will be made for the use of the ambulance. On trips outside the city the charge will be at the rate of 50 cents per mile.
